

Date: 7 March 2026

The PG Department of Political Science at Doaba College, Jalandhar organized a Voter Registration Camp for new voters on 7 March 2026. The main objective of this camp was to encourage students to participate in the democratic process and to help eligible students register as fresh voters.

During the camp, students who had attained the eligible voting age were guided through the process of voter registration. The faculty members of the department assisted the students in filling out the necessary forms and provided information about the importance of voting in a democracy.

As a result, 30 students successfully registered themselves as fresh voters.
